——— The English and Empire digest, with rules of the Supreme Court and statutory extracts bearing on pleading and practice, being a complete digest of every live English case on pleading, practice and procedure, accompanied by a clear statement of the law as laid down in the rules of the Supreme Court and statutes. Pleading. Practice and new procedure. London, Butterworth, 1932.
lxxii, 908 [1] p. 26 cm.
"The special character of the problems involved in 'Pleading' and 'Practice' has been mainly responsible for the publication of this volume at the present date and in its present form. With the rules of the Supreme Court showing a constant tendency to change from day to day, the publishers felt that to include a vast mass of material under the headings 'Pleading' and 'Practice' ... would not have been conducive to the interests of subscribers ... The transitory nature of the title, however, has gradually diminished in recent years ... The publishers feel, therefore, that the time is now opportune for the publication of this volume."—Publishers' announcement.

Epistolæ obscurorum virorum.
Dvo volvmina Epistolarvm obscvrorvm virorvm ad D. M. Ortuinum Gratiū, attico lepôre referta, denuò excusa & à mendis repurgata. Qvibvs ob stili & argumenti similitudinem adiecimus in calce Dialogum mirè festiuum, eruditis salibus refertum. ⌈n. p.⌉ 1557.
⌈251⌉ l. 14 cm.
Signatures: A–X[12], last leaf blank.
Half-title of pt. 2: Altervm volvmen. Epistolarvm obscvrorvm virorum ad M. Ortuinum Gratium, nil præter lusum continentes & iocum, in arrogantes sciolos, plerumq; famæ bonorum virorum obtrectatores, & sanioris doctrinae contaminatores ...
At end: "Romæ stampato con priuilegio del Papa, & confirmato in lugo, qui vulgo dicitur, Bel vedere."
The authorship of the Epistolæ was formerly attributed to Reuchlin, Erasmus, Hutten and others. More recent researches have made it almost certain that the first series, consisting of 41 letters (first published 1515?) was written by Crotus Rubeanus; the appendix of 7 letters (first published with the edition printed at Strassburg? 1516?) and the majority of the 62 letters which form the second series (first published 1517) were written by Ulrich von Hutten. The authorship of an eighth letter in the appendix to the first series, entitled "Ioannes Toiletanus R. Kalberstadensi ... ex Brabantia a. 1537." (first published with the 1556 edition of this series), of some of the letters belonging to the second series, and of eight added letters forming an appendix to the second series (first published with the 2d edition, Coloniae? without date) has thus far not been ascertained. Cf. E. Böcking, Epist. obscur. vir. Lipsiae, 1864–70.
In this edition pt. 1 contains the first series with the appendix of eight letters followed by "Dialogus novvs et mire festivvs, ex quorundam virorum salibus cribratus, non minus eruditionis, quàm macaronices complectens. Epigramma I⌈oannis⌉ A⌈lexandri⌉ B⌈rassicani⌉ ..." (sig. I. 14b–K4b); pt. 2, the second series with appendix.
I. Gratius, Ortuinus, d. 1542. II. Crotus Rubeanus, Johannes, ca. 1480–ca. 1539, supposed author. III. Hutten, Ulrich von, 1488–1523, supposed author. IV. Böcking, Eduard, 1802–1870, ed. V. Dialogus novus et more festivus.
